New Delhi, July 27: Chinese troops transgressed the border on land and by air in Chamoli district of Uttarakhand earlier this month when its men stationed themselves in a demilitarised zone and its helicopters flew in the Indian air space for over five minutes.

Official sources said the incident took place on July 19 in Barahoti area prompting the security establishment to review the security along the 350 kilometres border with Tibet in this area, official sources said.

While Uttarakhand chief minister Harish Rawat termed the development as "something to worry about" hoping that Centre will pay heed to his request for increased vigil, Union minister of state for home Kiren Rijiju said ITBP had been asked to look into the matter.

According to the sources, Chinese People's Liberation Army (PLA) troops were seen in the area when state government officials accompanied by ITBP personnel in civil visit Barahoti ground.

The sources said that the civilian team was sent back by Chinese People's Liberation Army troops, who claimed it to be their land and recognised it as 'Wu-Ji'. Later, it was found that Chinese helicopter hovered over the ground for near five minutes before returning to its side, the source said and expressed apprehension that it could have carried out aerial photography of the area during its reconnaissance mission. It was identified as Zhibas series of attack helicopter of the PLA.

Barahoti is one of three border posts in the 'middle sector' comprising Uttarakhand, Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand where ITBP jawans are not allowed to take their weapons as per the unilateral decision of the then government in June 2000.

In 1958 both countries listed Barahoti, an 80 square KM sloping pasture as a disputed area where neither side would send their troops. In 1962 war, Chinese PLA did not enter the 545 KM middle-sector and focused on Western (Ladakh) and Eastern (Arunachal Pradesh) sectors.

However, after 1962 Sino-Indian war, the ITBP jawans used to patrol the area with weapons in non-combative manner under which the barrel of the gun is positioned downward.

In dispute, the Indian side unilaterally agreed in June 2000 that ITBP troops would not be carrying arms to three posts which included Barahoti besides Kauril and Shipki in Himachal Pradesh. PTI
